Dear Council and Staff -

This is the latest information on the Gold King Mine response effort. Our staff collected water samples at 4 Corners on Monday and the results should be in today. We will check in with the command center in Durango and piece together as much downstream San Juan data as possible to assess the situation on the Ute Mountain Ute Reservation. BIA had also collected some samples there Monday and Tuesday and I am working on gaining access to those data as well.

The river access at 4 Corners bridge is currently marked off with caution tape and signs posted to deter anyone from recreation there- fishing, boating, swimming. As we learn more about the water quality we can determine the risks involved with those activities at that location.

Scott,

Attached is the latest sitrep. Sounds like UMU may join the Unified Command. Hope you are coming up. I took a site tour with council member, tribal media, and response team. Very interesting. You should arrange for the Tribal Council to have a site walk.

Tom
